

Lincoln History

Infographic

Lincoln was placed at the junction of two important roads in Roman Britain

Roman Lincoln was 96 acres in size compared to Roman London which covered 330 acres

Wool Exported
1350

One third of medieval England's wool was exported through Lincoln and Boston via a waterway network

= 100 sacks of wool per year

Lincoln's population has fluctuated over the years

Lincoln invented the tank during World War I

